

3 dead, 15 injured in Vienna terror attack

upload them to share with police to aid in the investigation.

Austrian Chancellor Sebastian Kurz described the shooting as “hideous terrorist attack” in a statement posted to Twitter. Kurz thanked officers for their response and said the country “will never allow ourselves to be intimidated by terrorism.”

“So that the police can concentrate fully on the fight against terrorism, the federal government has decided that the armed forces will take over the property protection previously carried out by the police in Vienna with immediate effect,” Kurz said.

the chairwoman tweeted. “Please follow the instructions of the police and be careful.”

The shooting took place Monday on the last night before Austria’s second lockdown is set to begin, restricting access to non-essential businesses until the end of November as coronavirus cases begin to rise once again.

It also takes place in a tweet translated to English.

“This is our Europe. Our enemies need to know who they are dealing with,” Macron said. “We won’t give in to anything.”