

A documentary that ought to rank with the footage of British troops liberating Belsen

Channel 4's latest episode of Dispatches, Escape from Isis, which includes secret footage inside the terror state, is TV at its most unmissable, says J