

A Hallmark Card to ISIS on Mother's Day

ISIS writes:

The attack by the Islamic State in America is only the beginning of our efforts to establish a wiliyah [actually wilayah, administrative district] in the heart of our enemy. Our aim was the khanzeer [pig] Pamela Geller and to show her that we don't care what land she hides in or what sky shields her; we will send all our Lions to achieve her slaughter. This will heal the hearts of our brothers and disperse the ones behind her. To those who protect her: this will be your only warning of housing this woman and her circus show. Everyone who houses her events, gives her a platform to spill her filth are legitimate targets. We have been watching closely who was present at this event and the shooter of our brothers. We knew that the target was protected. Our intention was to show how easy we give our lives for the Sake of Allah.

You say you want to murder Pamela Geller and claim that if you succeed, it will "disperse the ones behind her." In this you are wrong. I hereby inform you there are dozens, if not hundreds, of American women who will rise up behind her. Your "lions" will meet our lionesses who are much stronger and more determined than you are.

Unlike under Islam, women play a large part in the religious life of our country and we will not allow you to threaten our religion or our freedom as Americans – the freedom our own mothers and fathers fought and died to bequeath to us and for which we fight and die to bequeath to our children.

Your Father is the Father of Lies and of Darkness. You are blind and have no vision of the future, but would return us to the past, even a past which never existed, but serves as a substitute for a vision of the future; just as Islam serves a substitute for the actual experience of God – an experience which is even now is open to you and which would transform your hatred to love.

Our Father is the Father of Truth and of Light who has sent his spirit to indwell our minds. We do not fear those who can destroy the body, but cannot touch our souls. You say you love death. We love not death, but neither do we fear it. We cannot be destroyed for we know we live eternally.

The Christian mothers of America love Jesus as a living spiritual reality. We know him personally; he is our ever-present friend and there is no man strong enough to take him from us or take him from our children.

You will never succeed. All trees not planted by our Father in Heaven will be rooted up. Your future does not exist, like your imaginary past, it is an illusion.

I for one would gladly lay down my life for my Lord, my country and my children. There are thousands, perhaps millions, more just like me. The lionesses of America will not yield. We surround our children and our country with faith, prayer and a deep belief in the freedom God has given us and which we will never allow you to take away.

God Bless America on this Mother's Day.
