

A Muslim women's network says an enormous donation for Christchurch victims from a Chinese delegation should be returned.

the network's petition reads.

“Though we understand this generous donation isn't money from the Chinese government, we still firmly believe that the best assistance from any community that Muslims could receive is to call out Islamophobia, and stop the persecution of those practicing the Islamic faith around the world.”

The petition calls the Uighur camps “the Auschwitz of contemporary times”, and accused the New Zealand Government of turning a blind eye to injustice because of our historical links and business ties to China.

“As New Zealanders we have already lost our 50. We are simply calling for us all to lead in being a voice for those incarcerated for practising Islam.”
