

After 20 Years In Afghanistan, It's Goodbye To All That

by Hugh Fitzgerald

President Biden has done something good: he's pulling the American forces out of Afghanistan. After 20 years of war, with 2,500 Americans dead and 25,000 wounded, and the U.S. having spent more than a trillion dollars on this fiasco, all American forces will be out of Afghanistan by August 31. A report on the withdrawal's effect on Afghanistan's neighbors is here: "Taliban resurgence raises terrorism fears from Moscow to Beijing," by Eltaf Najafizada, Faseeh Mangi and Sudhi Ranjan Sen,
