

After Nice Jihad Attack Two Aussie Journalists State the Flaming Obvious in Public: Got Muslims? Got Jihad

And of course, predictably, all the bien-pensants are having conniptions.

Nevertheless: what has been said, and therefore thought, cannot be unsaid nor unthought, by all those many, many minds that have read Mr Bolt's op ed and heard one Sonia Kruger – both pretty and possessed of basic commonsense – being very, very blunt – on a show on what one might call Tabloid TV, one of our commercial channels – about her agreement with that op ed, and her reasons, to wit – a/ the real possibility of meeting the same fate as the victims of jihad mass murder in Nice, France, and b/ the suppression of free speech.

To begin with, here – as it appeared in the Herald-Sun; it also appeared in Sydney's "Telegraph" – is the Andrew Bolt op ed that prompted the indignation meeting on TV at which Ms Kruger so thoroughly shocked her co-panelists.

"Muslim Migration in France Opens Door to Terror".

That is: it has opened the door to Jihad, or, to be even more exact, that migration is itself a form of Jihad, the Muslim struggle or striving to force all of humanity into subjection to Muslims, and the sharia of Islam. – CM

'Why have jihadist terrorists made France Europe's bloodiest battlefield?

'Simple answer: Because France let in the most Muslims.

Or, if one doesn't want to get into arguments about absolute numbers and percentages, one might say, "because France admitted a great many Muslims". – CM

'This link between immigration policies and terrorism (that is: between Muslim mass-migration and Jihad – CM) largely explains why the French are the greatest victims of Europe's jihadists.

'It also explains why we are fools not to change our own immigration policies to protect ourselves.

'No European Union country has a higher proportion of Muslims than France – up to ten percent of its population, or six million people, though statistics are vague, and vary.

'Yes, numbers don't tell the whole story, but they do count.

'Another example: Belgium's capital, Brussels, is Europe's biggest Islamic city, with 300,000 Muslims, and has paid terribly for it.

'It suffered mass murder by jihadists at its airport last March, its police have had two shootouts with terrorist networks, and an Islamist murdered four Jews at its Jewish museum.

'But it is France where the fiercest frontline runs in this war between Islam and the remnants of European Christendom.

'France has the most Muslims, and that is why four people were killed, three of them children, in an Islamist (sic: Muslim – CM) attack on a Jewish day school in Toulouse four years ago.

'That is why 20 people were murdered in Paris in last year's Islamist (sic: Muslim – CM) attacks on the Charlie Hebdo magazine and a kosher supermarket.

'That is why 130 more people were murdered (and many, many others gravely wounded – CM) in Paris last November in an Islamic State assault on restaurants, a concert hall, and a football stadium.

'That is why a policeman and his wife were last month murdered by a jihadist outside their home.

'That is why 84 people died (that is: were mass-murdered, human-sacrificed to Allah – CM) in last week's terrorist attack in Nice, when a Tunisian-born man (sic: "a Tunisian-born Muslim man" – CM) rammed his truck into a crowd celebrating Bastille Day.

'That is why there have been dozens of other Islamist (sic: Muslim – CM) attacks and plots, including the beheading last year of a factory manager at Saint-Quentin-Fallavier, and the running down of 21 people by cars driven by jihadists in two attacks the previous year.

And let's not forget the kidnap and torture-murder of the Jew Ilan Halimi by a gang of Muslims, and the murder of a French Jew, Sebastien Selam, by a Muslim colleague and former friend.

Those, too, would not have happened had France not admitted into its midst a mass of Muslims pickled from birth in a thoroughly-Islamically orthodox hatred of Jews. Muslim aggression toward Jews in France is so bad that many, many French Jews are fleeing, mostly to Israel. – CM

'This slaughter has forced the French Government to turn parts of France into what looks like a military occupation: 10,000 soldiers have been deployed in the streets, and the country has been under an official state of emergency for eight months now.

"We are in a war", declared Nicolas Sarkozy, the former French president.

Yes. A war that began in the 6th century, when France was not France, but Gaul; and has continued unceasingly, though with periods of abeyance here and there, ever since. – CM

'True, the number of Muslims in a country does not tell the full story.

'Indeed, by some counts Germany may have even more Muslims than France, after an estimated 600, 000 more (most of them young men of military age – CM) crossed into the country illegally last year – though Muslims do still make up a smaller proportion of Germany's bigger population.

'Yet, Germany has until now been spared the mass murders suffered by so many other countries. (It has, however, had jihad plots not a few, so far fortunately foiled; it has had honor murders of young women from the Muslim 'community', destroyed by their families to punish them for daring to embrace western freedoms; and at least one major mosque in Germany has been connected with serious jihad terror plots. – CM) Perhaps this is because many of its Muslims have come from Turkey, a country that is (or was – CM) more Westernised and advanced than the North African countries which fed France.

Or than fanatically Islamic Bangladesh and Pakistan from which hundreds of thousands of deeply-primitive Muslims have flooded into the UK. However, the situation could change. What matters is this one fact that Mr Bolt has already noted: Muslims 'still make up a smaller proportion of Germany's bigger population'. Let that proportion change – let Muslims, in both absolute numbers and as a percentage, increase and therefore feel themselves to be in a stronger position vis a vis the circumambient German Infidels – and things could get very nasty, very quickly. – CM

'But many of the Muslims who crossed into Germany last year did come from North Africa. Germany's Justice Ministry said this month it was conducting nearly 120 investigations involving more than 180 terrorism suspects.

'Nearly 500 suspected extremists (that is: potential jihadist mass-murderers of Infidels – CM) are being monitored.

'So for Germany, too, more Muslims means more danger, whereas the situation in, let's say, Japan, suggests fewer Muslims means less danger.

'Japan has strict controls on immigration and its 127 million people include just 100, 000 Muslims. Result: zero Islamist attacks.

'Contrast that with Australia, which has a population of just 24 million, but 500,000 Muslims (and counting.. – CM).

'How we've paid for leaving our door open.

'For a start, the past three successful terror attacks here – the Lindt cafe siege, the shooting of police accountant Curtis Cheng, and the stabbing of two police in Melbourne – were all carried out by Muslim refugees we had allowed in.

'That story is now terribly familiar. For instance, IS's most influential recruiter in Australia, Mohammed Ali Baryalei, was another Muslim refugee we let in.

'Harun Causevic, put under a control order by a Melbourne court last week to prevent terrorism, is from yet another Muslim refugee family.

'On it goes. The Islamists jailed for plotting an attack on Sydney's Holsworthy army base included refugees and men from Muslim immigrant families.

'Many of the jailed Benbrika plotters were born overseas.

'Hate preacher Sheik Taj Din al-Hilali was born in Egypt.

'The Jew-hating Sheik Ismael al-Wahwah, head of the radical

Hizb ut Tahrir movement in Australia, was born in Jordan.

'Hamdi Alqudsi, found guilty this month by a Sydney court of recruiting jihadists for IS, is a disability pensioner born in Palestine (sic: 'Palestine'? – I assume this means he was born in Gaza, or else in one of the Muslim colonies in Judea and Samaria – CM).

'In fact, of the 21 men already jailed in Australia for terrorism, 12 were born overseas. Seven more were born here to Lebanese families (that is: "to Lebanese Muslim migrant families" – CM).

'Who let them all in? Why?

'How can our politicians excuse running such a dangerous refugee and immigration program?

'How can they have imported such trouble that at least two Australian journalists have been forced to move homes after being threatened with death for mocking Islam, or reporting on I. S?

'No person should have to live in such fear in this country.

'No-one should have to risk death for simply speaking their mind – and risk it, worse, at the hands of extremists (that is – "Muslim sharia enforcers" – CM) we actually invited in.

'Of course, most Muslims are great citizens and some are widely admired. They hate terrorism (or say that they do; but it would be wise to look carefully at how they define 'terrorism' – CM). They want peace (or say that they do; but are they using the same definition of 'peace' as we Infidels are? – CM). All that is true and must always be kept in mind.

'But most are troublingly silent when their top Muslim leaders preach hatred, excuse terrorists, and blame the West for inviting jihadist attacks.

'They even allow our Grand Mufti, Dr Ibrahim Abu Mohammed, to speak in their name when he lists as the "causative factors" of IS's murder last year of 130 people in Paris not the Islamic faith which inspired the killers, but five alleged anti-Muslim sins of the West, from our "racism" and "Islamophobia" to our foreign policies.

'It is much the same story with our most prominent Muslims – including presenters such as The Project's Waleed Aly – who turn almost every discussion on Islamic terrorism into a criticism of the West.

'Take Aly's explanation when the Islamist son of Afghan immigrants (that is: Afghan Muslim immigrants – CM) killed (sic: murdered – CM) 49 people at a gay bar in Orlando.

'To Aly, this actually showed that our "freedom just kind of ends up consuming itself in a very strange, dark sort of a way".

'It seemed to Aly that the problem was the West's freedom, not the Islamist hatred of it (not the pious Muslim hatred of it – CM).

'But the time for such sophistry is long gone. The luxury of such vaporous (sic: I think 'vacuous' would have been a better word – CM) is now beyond our capacity to pay.

'The mathematics is clear: The more Muslims we import, the more danger we are in.

Exactly. – CM

'Isn't the next step now obvious?

What will our Prime Minister and Immigration Minister do now to protect us?'

where it was opened for Comments, of which there were many. A few dedicated Islamophiles were hard at work trying to create and maintain confusion, but the majority of commenters, unfooled and unfoolable, were in agreement with Mr Bolt. I encourage our readers to click on the link and read those comments, to get a sense of the way in which the wind is beginning to blow among not a few ordinary Aussie Infidels.

As for Ms Sonia Kruger, who understands the obvious, and was prepared to state it loud and clear on TV, I will reproduce a couple of the reports about that, in a separate posting.
