

Armed Man Demands Airtime On Dutch Broadcaster

The BBC says:- Police have stormed the studio of the Dutch national broadcaster to arrest an armed man who demanded airtime. Thursday's evening edition of the news was not broadcast. NOS director Jan de Jong initially said it was not clear how the man got through tight security.

The Guardian has some video of his apprehension Dutch News has some information about him that the British press are not mentioning.

The young man who forced his way into the headquarters of Dutch public broadcaster