

Armed police swoop on Hagley Road, Edgbaston, in operation linked to Westminster terror attacks

From the Mirror

Armed police closed off Hagley Road in Edgbaston last night in an operation linked to the London Evening Standard arrests now total 7, from raids also in London and elsewhere.

Speaking outside New Scotland Yard on Thursday morning, Mr Rowley, the Met's senior anti-terror officer, said he had no "specific information" about further threats to the public.

"We believe this attacker acted alone and was inspired by international terrorism," he said