

Nasty, Brutish and (Mercifully) Short

Christian Zionism Examined

By Steven Paas.

Hamburg, Germany, 2012. 135 pp. $29.95

Steven Paas, a Presbyterian minister from the Netherlands with advanced degrees from the University of Amsterdam and the Theological University of Apeldoorn, has a problem with Christian Zionism, a movement that attributes religious value to the modern state of Israel.

Paas has written a relatively short (135 page) book about the movement and it is simply astounding to see how many problems Paas lays at the feet of Christian Zionists.