

Spleen by Charles Baudelaire

Translated from the French by Guy Walker (February 2020)

Portrait of Charles Baudelaire, Gustave Courbet, 1840

Spleen

I have a thousand years of memories.

A chest of drawers rammed full of elegies,

Of served writs, billets doux and balance sheets,
Romances, heavy plaits rolled in receipts,
Encloses fewer secrets than my mind