

Survival in Sodom by Magda Székely

translated from the Hungarian and edited by Thomas Ország-Land (March 2014)

The author of the following pieces is hardly known abroad, yet she is one of the greatest among the Holocaust writers. Magda Székely (1936-2007), poet, translator, literary editor, was a shy and very private person with relatively little published output. More of her work will appear in