

The Incompetent Jew

There is a myth prevalent amongst the Left and in the Muslim world that Jews are highly intelligent, capable people; that this intelligence is used for cunning and manipulation. That it is put into effect to control the mass media, finance and Western powers—most effectively in the USA. But the US is just the latest great power to fall victim to, and become the tool of, their omnipotent reach; before it came the European powers, notably Great Britain. The Jewish illuminati, through their world-wide conspiracy, are the puppeteers of capitalism and the West's military power. Effectively, Jews control everything of import; hence the West's support of a Jewish homeland in the Middle East. Israel only exists because Jews control America and the UK and through the international banking system have a sinister stranglehold on everybody else. Sound familiar?

Yet, this success that Judeophobes preach, which they seek to open the world's eyes to, in order to save us all from enslavement to the conspirators' whims and desires, or better yet completely liberate us through the ultimate action of the 'end game' (I leave you to conclude what that is), is one that need not concern us as much as the scaremongers claim. For it is clear to all those who study the details of current events and historical ones, that Jews are a highly incompetent people.

Even with military supremacy in the region, and a supposedly efficient fighting force in the IDF, Israel is unable, incapable even, of carrying out its genocidal intentions. Out of a population of 2.2 million Palestinians in Gaza they have only managed to kill, according to Hamas, something in the region of 36,000 people, even though they occupy large areas of the enclave.

Genocide, according to the UN's definition, is "acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial, or religious group." Given the UN also states the fatality ratio of civilians to combatants in a war is usually 9:1, that Israel has only managed to achieve a ratio of 1.5:1 surely demonstrates incompetence. It is clearly incapable of harnessing its military advantage to achieve even the death rate of a 'normal' war, let alone genocide. The meagre body count of an estimated 15,000 Hamas militia casualties out of those 36,000 deaths reduces the civilian death toll to just below 17% of the usual 90% in war. For an entity committed to genocide that really is an abysmal performance.

But this failure isn't just military. Their ability to control financial institutions, governments and the media also failed abysmally in the 1930s and 1940s. With all their power and tentacle-like reach around the world, the Jewish or Zionist cabal of global domination should be seen as nothing other than an utter failure. And the failures of this and the last century are only two recent examples in a long list of historical failures.

Time and again, Jews have been shown to be incapable of taking advantage or effectively using their 'power' to manipulate everything to their advantage. The media also do an abysmal job, unable to shake of the negative image of Jews to the point where antisemitism is a constant undulating theme throughout Western and Muslim history, exported by both those cultural entities around the world. For all their control and cunning all they ever manage to do is get themselves killed, and at times in very large numbers.

And just look at Israel itself. It has not managed to homogenise the Jewish state and ethnically cleanse the, in excess of 20%, Arab population. Jewish racism is a failure. Arabs have access to the same education and employment opportunities, even serving in the government. Maybe they don't really understand what bigotry is; something they could learn a lot about from their neighbours but they probably refuse to do so through prejudice and ignorance. They should be more open to other cultures' values and beliefs, not just those of Arabs (both Muslim and Christian) who are involved in peace projects with them, Christians (of a plethora of denominations and ethnicities), Druze, Maronites, Ahmadiyya, Bedouin, Samaritans, those holding liberal, Western ideas and those holding a spectrum of political views from right to left.

As for having an uncannily high proportion of Nobel prize winners, well, this must be part of that ineffective worldwide conspiracy that values certain types of people over others. I mean, how has the world benefitted from finding a cure for syphilis; isolation of the polio virus; the discovery of conductive polymers, human blood groups, Hepatitis C, antibiotics against tuberculosis, the photo electric effect; discoveries concerning the chemical structure of antibodies, tumour viruses and infectious diseases; and research into superconductors anyway?

Even when Jews seek peace they are an utter failure. Attempts to secularise and integrate into European society—failure. Acceptance of the tiny piece of land recommended by the Peel Commission (less than 20% of the land now comprising Israel, the West Bank and Gaza—5,000 square kilometres, smaller than the state of Delaware or about the size of Trinidad) —failure. Agreeing to the armistice lines of 1949, known as the ‘green line’ —failure. Engaging in the Oslo Accords and offering to concede 99% of the territories demanded by the Palestinians—failure. Withdrawing unilaterally from Gaza—failure.

I suppose two of their greatest failures, not recognising the divinity of one of their own during the Roman occupation and not recognising the divine inspiration of an Arab shortly before the Muslim occupation, has led to all this strife for them. Which leads one to conclude: they can't be that smart, or at least not as smart as antisemites give them credit for.

They couldn't even foresee how communist support for the founding of Israel would soon abandon and turn against it. Nor that acceptance of support from any other source that would support them in their desperate attempt to survive annihilation, rather than just roll over and die quietly, would result in accusations of Israel being a Western imperialist colony in the Middle East. Although surely you'd have to forgive them that, when support from the Soviets and worldwide leftist movements saw the establishment of Israel as the complete opposite—a socialist entity striving against the sheikhdoms and autocracies in the region. Still, that muddled blame for being behind both sides of a Manichaean dichotomy, both capitalism and communism, is rather confusing.

From a people this bad at so much there is nothing to fear.
