

Biden Administration Approves F-35 Sale to UAE

by Hugh Fitzgerald

The Biden Administration seldom mentions the Abraham Accords. Its lukewarm endorsement, both by Biden and Blinken, for what was undoubtedly the greatest diplomatic triumph of the Trump Administration, is painful to observe. Not only does the Biden Administration not full-throatedly endorse the Accords, but it shows no desire to work to enlarge them, by persuading other Arab states to emulate the United Arab Emirates, Bahrain, Sudan, and Morocco. Just as disturbing, the Biden Administration has been holding up the sale of F-35s, the top-of-the-line Stealth fighter plane, that the UAE was promised as part of its agreement to normalize relations with Israel.

Now, four months into his presidency, Biden has finally approved the sale. A report on this exhibition of sanity is here: "Biden Administration to Proceed With $23 Billion Arms Sale to UAE," Jihad Watch.