

Boy, 13, arrested on terrorism charge in west London

From the London Evening Standard

A 13-year-old boy has been arrested in west London on suspicion of sharing Islamist terrorist material.

The teenager was detained on Tuesday by officers from the Met Police Counter Terrorism Command and taken into custody before being released on bail until mid-June.

Officers obtained a warrant and have searched his address.