

British student Hannah Bladon fatally stabbed by Palestinian attacker on Jerusalem train

Shin Bet statement said,

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu compared the attack to other violent acts around the world in recent weeks. "Radical Islam strikes at the capitals of the world and, unfortunately, terrorism has hit the capital of Israel – Jerusalem,"

"A Palestinian terrorist murdered a 23-year-old student, a citizen of Great Britain, in cold blood," the premier said, sending condolences in the name of all of accounts from the Israeli doctor, paramedic and policeman who tried to save Miss Bladon; this was a frenzied attack by an man on an unknown woman young enough to be his granddaughter.