

'Don't react': Muslim Council of Britain tells worshippers to remain calm after release of new Charlie Hebdo

When Muslim preachers in the street insult my Saviour with lies from the Koran, or even when two Muslims murdered a British soldier on the streets of my city, I don't recall the Archbishop of Canterbury, Cardinal Nichols and the President of the Baptist Union having to tell me and my Christian friends to calm down and think "What would Jesus do?" because we know how to behave.

From the
