

Harris's plan, the Rodney King way out.

By William Corden

Harris's plan is a pool so shallow that there's no deep end. No specifics, no promises to clean up the downtown cores or fix the mental health act and absolutely clueless about foreign policy. How do people like this make it to the top? Beats me!

All I heard from her in the debate was the Rodney King siren song "Can't we all just get along?" Superficial claptrap from someone who has been gerrymandered into what is a ceremonial position in the Democratic power game.

Yeah right, if we all just "get along" then everything will fix itself. These people have us completely scammed and the media is in lockstep with them.

Boot them out while we have the chance, because if you don't, you're stuck with paying the bills for the next four years while they dump money to useless causes out of the back of a truck.

Photograph from Sky News Australia