

Hate preachers and terrorists could be stripped of citizenship under anti-terrorism proposal

*In other news, our govt is making noises about revoking citizenship of some of the worst jihad gang bosses we've got on our soil (check out the Comments, some Aussies know what is at stake though not as many yet as I'd like)*

The ABC and those who comment there are, naturally, horrified:

“I think most Australians would want to make sure that people who have Australian citizenship treat it as a privilege,” Immigration Minister Peter Dutton told the ABC. “If people are going to act against our national interest in the name of terrorism, then we seriously have to question whether or not they can continue to be Australian citizens.”
