

HATE SPEECH Terror preacher Anjem Choudary calls for release of terrorist HOURS after his ban on public speaking ends

The Sun and Telegraph have a report on this, his first speech to journalists. On a Google search on Choudary's name The Times has the headline "Hate preacher Anjem Choudary's inflammatory speech after ..." and the beginnings of an article "The hate preacher Anjem Choudary gave an inflammatory speech today, hours after a ban on him speaking in public expired. Choudary, who has been linked to ..." but a click on the links results in the information "This article has been deleted." Cor!

The Telegraph reports But halfway through his speech, in which none of Choudary's supporters were in attendance, one passerby, of South Asian origin, shouted: "You don't speak for us."

Addressing the crowd he said he would be "seeking the release of all Muslim prisoners of faith, including our dead (I think he means 'dear') Skeikh Omar Bakri Mohammad who is currently suffering torture and abuse in Lebanon."

And moaning about his prison conditions, he added: "During the last five years Allah has destined for me to experience various trials at the hands of the British regime, including imprisonment in the UK's first 'Seperation Centre, in Frankland and the most Draconian licence conditions ever given to a person upon release."

I can't place the park. But I don't know everything.
