

Hundreds protesters rally against Islam in Czech capital

Martin Konvicka, a leader of the group . . . said (the) group has no formal ties with PEGIDA, which organises bigger anti-Islam marches in Germany.

There were some heated exchanges between the group and two dozen counter-protesters.

The comments on Yahoo news are interesting. The metaphors get a bit mixed but on are on a theme of balls starting to roll, and dominos falling.