

In France, The Muslim Terrorist Threat "Is Permanent"

Here.

Tunisia and tourism have been in the news this past week. Now think.

The most fanatical Muslims have, with one attack in Tunisia at the Bardo Museum, done great damage to tourism, on which so many Tunisians depend.

'France is a cynosure for Chinese and other Asian eyes, and they've been pumping a lot of money into the French economy, through their tourism. Now just imagine what Muslims could do if they attacked even one tourist bus, at Charles De Gaulle, or outside the Louvre, killing a dozen or two Chinese visitors. What are the French going to do? Either they halt and then reverse Muslim migration when there is still time, just, or they wait and wait, as Muslim numbers grow, as the drain of Muslims on the French economy, through unemployment benefits, upkeep in prisons, subsidies for housing, free education (including special intensive classes in language), free health care (with the congenital illnesses of many Muslims, due to cousin-mariage, raising the costs to all), increases in security measures of all kinds, and much, much more – or they see the slow-motion ruin of a superior civilization by an inferior one, or rather, one that is hardly a civilization at all, but primitive madness.
