

In Nigeria, If Buhari Wins

If Muhamad Buhari wins, and does not immediately go after Boko Haram, and make its destruction the main event of his first months, isn't it likely that more and more of the Christians, and not only the Ibos, will think again about the attempt in the late 1960s to create an independent Christian state, the stae of Biafra, and perhaps try again, to rid themselves of the Muslim problem that won't, because it can't, go away?