

Indonesia cathedral rocked by Palm Sunday suicide bombing

From Reuters and the Reuters

The one person killed in the church bombing in the Indonesian city of Makassar in South Sulawesi was suspected to be the attacker, the provincial police chief Merdisyam told reporters.

Churches have been targeted in the past by extremists in Indonesia, the world's biggest Muslim-majority nation. Religious Affairs Minister Yaqut Cholil Qoumas condemned the attack and urged police to increase security measures at places of worship.