

Intelligence ‘Networks’ Discovered in Brain for the First Time

Basic intelligence, like eye and hair color, height, etc., tends to be inherited, although great geniuses usually spring from average parents. I think this is pretty common knowledge, now being “scientifically” confirmed.