

Iran Fantasizes That It Has Israel On the Run

by Hugh Fitzgerald

Iranian leaders have a rich fantasy life. Possibly It has something to do with their deep belief in the Return of the Hidden Imam. Twelver Shi'ism may have its points, but a grasp of reality is not one of them. Iran has recently become convinced, despite all the evidence, that it has been outplaying Israel ever since its drone attack on the MV Mercer Street in the Gulf of Oman.

The report on this development is here: "Iran believes it has Israel on the run," by Seth J. Frantzman, Jihad Watch.
