

'Jihad! Jihad!' Migrant gang turns Swedish city into war zone

From the The Local. I think the Local is still trying to put a good face on this; diversity, vibrant, high-jinks, sort of thing. The boy who took the video is a newly qualified journalist so he still has a lot to learn.

A VIOLENT gang of migrants turned a Swedish city's New Year's Eve celebrations into a "war zone" and chanted "jihad" as they sent fireworks into the crowds.

Photographer Freddy Mardell was planning on enjoying an evening out on Saturday when the mob launched their rampage in Malmo. Describing scenes of horror, the Swede said one thug was calling for "jihad" while standing on top of a car in the city centre.

Mr Mardell told Swedish police admit that they cannot guarantee a citizen's safety in a public place on New Years

Eve.

Skåne Police's Norling emphasized that he doesn't think irresponsible use of fireworks is limited to Malmö.
