

Let's Ask The Country That Question – No, Let's Ask The World

The rank stupidity of that supposedly standard interview question – “where do you see yourself in five years” – a question which merits something like death, or at least being locked up, in durance vile, for the absurd questioner, could be asked more fittingly of this giddy globe, hurtling as it is toward all kinds of disasters: Where do you see yourself in five years?