

Mohamad Tawhidi Prepares a Useful List

by Hugh Fitzgerald

Mohamad Tawhidi, the well-known “Imam of Peace” who smites the Islamist enemy hip and thigh, has compiled a useful list of Islamic groups engaged in terrorism. It’s a list to keep with you, so that you can pull it out, and read it aloud, the next time you are in a discussion where someone insists that it’s only a matter of a “tiny handful of extremists,” or in the alternative, “fewer than 1/10th of 1%, of the world’s Muslims have any involvement with terrorism.” It can be especially useful to read from at an Open-Mosque night, or Ask-A-Muslim anything event. I have added, at the very end, CAIR, which was unaccountably left out of the original list.
