

Mosques call for calm after Prophet Muhammad image shown at Sheffield school assembly

From the Persian miniatures produced in the 14th century for contemporary devotions maybe?

The school then released a letter of apology to the parents on Tuesday, saying that it was a “genuine mistake and the person involved is mortified.”

But a parent, Atif Mohammed said the apology was not enough, until the deputy head who was responsible for the assembly steps down from her position. He said: “I’m not letting my kids to school until this matter is resolved. I believe awareness needs to be out there for that to happen, otherwise it is going to get brushed under the table again.”

He said other parents have decided to strike and have stopped sending their children, starting Tuesday.