

OUCH! Ram Tough

by Reg Green

I wrote last week about the Italian friend who I thought was asking me if I was angry but who instead was saying ‘are you hungry?’

Since then I’ve remembered my surprise when another Italian friend told me how bold illegal immigrants have become in crossing the Mediterranean into Europe. Someone he’d met, he said, had come from Morocco – without any ID at all – on a sheep.