

Pay-For-Slay: One Example

by Hugh Fitzgerald

Dafna Meir was an Israeli, a wife, mother of six (two of the children were adopted), and a nurse at a hospital where she treated Arab and Jewish patients alike. She often worked with Dr. Abdel Nasser, her friend and colleague. She was murdered by a young Palestinian who, once imprisoned, began to receive his guaranteed monthly income under the PA's "Pay-For-Slay" policy. A report on his treatment, and his recent good fortune in having his "salary" doubled as soon as he passed the five-year mark in prison, is here: "'Salary' of Terrorist Who Killed Israeli Mother Is Doubled," Elder of Zion, Jihad Watch.
