Peter Green — Fleetwood Mac — Albatross

Sad news that Peter Green, one of the greatest British blues guitarists and founder member of Fleetwood Mac (when they WERE a band) died today aged 73.

He hadn't had good health for many years, is I think the most tactful way of putting it. His family say he died quietly in his sleep. Thank you for the music.