

Phyllis Chesler interviewed by Paula Caplan

Dr. Paula Caplan, an amazing feminist psychologist, author, and activist in her own right, insisted on interviewing me at the Association for Women in Psychology's annual meeting which was held on March 5-7, 2021. AWP is an organization that I co-founded in 1969. We pre-recorded this interview. It covered the waterfront. Dr. Paula managed to capture the depth and breadth of my work with ease and humor. I think you'll enjoy listening to this 50 minute walk down a pioneer's progress. HERE it is.
