

'Pogrom(s)' film to be released October 7th, 1st anniversary of the Terror Attack

From Phyllis Chesler

This film looks good.

'Pogrom(s)' film to be released October 7th, 1st anniversary of the Terror Attack

ASHDOD, ISRAEL (20 miles from Gaza) SEPT 8, 2024—The horror of the October 7 attack on southern Israel is surpassed only by what followed on October 8: the cold indifference by most of the international community, followed by the irrational condemnation of Israel, and the eruption of well-planned anti-Israeli and anti-Semitic demonstrations on the campuses of elite universities and in the streets of major cities around the world.

Documentary filmmaker Pierre Rehov's new film, "Pogrom\(s\)", captures what no other film has shown: the historical context of the attack rooted in a culture of Jew hatred enabled by ad hoc alliances between Islamists, the KGB, and the Nazis—all dedicated to the eradication of the Jewish people and Israel.

"What happened on October 7 in Israel foreshadows what will happen in America and Europe if we don't wake up," warns Rehov, who has spent the last three decades on the front lines documenting the psychopathology of terrorists in the Middle East and the often, little-known precedents of similar pogroms against Jews and Christians.

“Iran’s leaders have repeatedly promised ‘Death to America, the Great Satan,’ and they mean it. Does anyone remember the 53 Americans held hostage at the U.S. Embassy in Iran for 444 days from Nov 4, 1979 – Jan 20, 1981?”

“What most Westerners don’t understand is the historical link: the Intifadas, the pro-Palestinian movement and the BDS campaigns are all part of a sophisticated, coordinated disinformation strategy that began in modern times with the alliance between Adolph Hitler and the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, who spent most of World War II in Germany, and later, the KGB’s clandestine training of Yasser Arafat and PLO leader Mahmoud Abbas,” says Rehov.

“Furthermore, latest revelations show that for decades, foreign nations have been paying huge sums to American universities to control the way history and current affairs are presented to impressionable young students. Hence the widespread brainwashing we see on our campuses today, including support for terrorists like Iran, Hamas, and Hezbollah.”

“Revelations of the cold-blooded execution of six hostages, including an American, show the true colors of Hamas and its terrorist partners and the absurdity of the global demands for a cease-fire.”

“Pogrom(s)” connects the dots like no other documentary has done before. It’s time to wake up...or pay the price forever.

The film will be available from October 7 on all the standard platforms. The trailer is available at www.pogroms.info. To receive an advance copy of the film and set up an interview with director Pierre Rehov, please contact Dean Draznin Communications at dean@drazninpr.com 323-397-2647.