

Police uncover London Underground bomb plot: teenage suspect arrested after 'viable improvised explosive device' found on tube train

From the London Evening Standard has an eye-witness who says he was white with a very long beard.)

Scotland Yard said the arrest came "following the discovery of a suspicious item on a tube in north Greenwich".

A statement said: "The 19-year-old man was arrested on suspicion of the commission, preparation and instigation of terrorism acts, under Section 41 of the Terrorism Act 2000. He has been taken to a London police station where he remains in custody."

Police said they were not looking for anyone else in connection with the suspected device.