

Rotherham sentencing; I am your karma

Twenty two years ago you groomed me, you stole my childhood. But now I am taking control. I am taking your freedom. I am your Karma.

Many of the main newspapers just have the dry facts, lest the public be angered with unnecessary information. Charlie Peters of GB news reported from Sheffield with a little more detail to give a glimpse of how heinous these crimes really were.

“She told them: ‘I am your karma!’”

GB News’ National Reporter @CDP1882 on the sentencing of seven men after a nine-week trial into child abuse, and the defiant statement given to them by the victim.

□ Become a GB News Member: <https://t.co/mNsRsGC8efpic.twitter.com/u7mtPyIGu2>

– GB News (@GBNEWS) September 13, 2024

And on the matter of how long these abuses were known about by those in authority, who in authority knew, and what they did (or more accurately didn't) do about it, and why not, is this exchange yesterday between journalist Dan Hodges and Jayne Senior the Rotherham Youth worker who worked with many of the girls.

Sadly Dan there won't be an inquiry , I have a report that clearly states senior officers were aware of what happened and received all my information.., but if I release that report I will be sued and risk everything?
<https://t.co/0zsAjZyFQs>

– Jayne Senior MBE PHF (@Jes123tia456) September 13, 2024