

Something ladylike

The Crinoline Lady, an ancient pollarded oak in a park somewhere in Essex. Walking in the fresh air is more and more of a comfort and joy to me these days. I can't ride a bike and consider peloton a dirty word. Show me a tree and I'm happy.

