

Spain 'in eye of the storm of jihad', warns expert

From the Spanish edition of The Local

A German-American foreign policy expert warned that Spain is at a heightened risk of radical jihadists, even as the government continues its crackdown on suspected terrorists.

Soeren Kern of the American Gatestone Institute think-tank explained the growing concerns about radical jihadists in the country in an