

Texas synagogue terrorist ranted about “fing Jews” in last call to family made during siege

From the Jewish Chronicle, reposted from 20th January and yet to be unpacked. But it's quite important, in my opinion.

The British terrorist who took four people hostage inside a Texas synagogue ranted about the “fing Jews” in the final phone call he made to his family during the siege, a recording obtained exclusively by the JC reveals.

In a chilling conversation with his brother in Blackburn from inside the Congregation Beth Israel synagogue in Colleyville, Malik Faisal Akram, 44, said: “I’m opening the doors for every youngster in England to enter America and f with them . . . Live your fing life bro, you fing coward. We’re coming to fing America. F them if they want to f with us. We’ll give them fing war.

“I’ve asked Allah for this death, Allah is with me, I’m not worried in the slightest,”

“Why do these fing motherfers come to our countries, rape our women and f our kids? I’m setting a precedent.. maybe they’ll have compassion for fing Jews.”

Akram shouted that he had been “praying to Allah for two years for this” and intended to die. “I’d rather live one day as a lion than 100 years as a jackal,” he said.

“I’m going to go toe-to-toe with [police] and they can shoot me dead ... I’m coming home in a body bag. . . I’m bombed up, I’ve got fucking every ammunition,””

He added: "I promised my brother on his deathbed that I'd go down a martyr." One of his younger brothers died three months ago, reportedly from Covid.