

The “con” continues: Defiant letter from the White House to Congressional Democrats

From William Corden

It sounds like a stutter but it's not . It's the wool being pulled over our eyes yet again.

Having seen Biden the last two or three outings, who can believe that he's even capable of writing a complete sentence, never mind a two page letter? This was written while he was taking a nap.

U.S. President Joe Biden, left, and his wife, Jill Biden, walk on the South Lawn of the White House .

As this debacle goes on it becomes more obvious that the backroom boys think they can get away with running anyone who has a detectable pulse, the weaker the better.

Their thought processes are as plain as the nose on your face; The person who's President doesn't have to be compos mentis, he just has to be able to weather a few more “one minute scripted clips” and we'll take care of the day to day decisions.

Watch this movie “ Being There” and you get the picture.

Put an end to this disgrace
