

The EU Keeps Avoiding The Truth About Abbas And Fatah

Here.

The EU's highest muckamucks must hope that few, or none, will become aware, and becoming aware, see things differently, of the Fatah (nee PLO) campaign of Slow-But-Steady Jihad against Israel, and the double-game of Nobody-Here-But-Us-Accountants Mahmoud Abbas, which is what he is when he smiles for the camera shaking the hand of this or that terminally stupid or naive Western leader, but who at home is the deep admirer, celebrator, and promoter of the most vicious Arab terrorists, who get squares and monuments named after them, for their deeds which include smashing in the heads of baby girls. Oh, it happens again and again. And were any of those leaders, with their smiles and their hands extended to Mahmoud Abbas, to review what is posted, day after day, at such sites as Palestinian Media Watch, would it change their minds, would it affect their policies? Or is there nothing that Abbas and the "Palestinians," that invented people, those shock troops of the Jihad against Israel, can do that would lose them support in the banana-peel-strewn corridors of power at the European soi-disant Union?
