

The FN's Candidate From The Congo

He supports the FN because he believes something new must be tried. And "il faut stopper l'immigration." Those who offer value added may be admitted, but those who become merely a burden – or a menace – to the state should not be. It's simple. In this short interview, he doesn't mention Islam. But he knows. You know.