

Think you've got a lot of money? How big are financial markets?

By William Corden

The average DAILY turnover of foreign currency trades in the financial markets is a staggering $5.3 TRILLION !

That's $5.3 million millions each and every business day Gold is a paltry $200 BILLION A DAY .. hardly worth bothering with□

Most of this passes through either the London or the New York trading floors