

Trinidadian ISIS soldier admits to local killings, urges Muslims to wage Jihad in homeland

From the Dabiq about why he rejected his family's Baptist Christian faith and embraced Islam, and even went as far as urging Muslims who live in the twin-island republic to "terrify the disbelievers in their own homes and make their streets run with their blood".

No dates were given in the interview but at-Trinidad, whose birth name is Shane Crawford, spoke about his own "jihad endeavour" in his homeland. He admitted that he and a few of his Muslim brothers took revenge "whenever the disbelievers in Trinidad would kill or harm a Muslim".

We would work to accumulate money in order to buy weapons and ammo. . . . We were successful in many operations, and this was only by Allah's grace. Abu 'Abdillah, my wife, and I were arrested at one point, but the police weren't able to make a case against us. We were nonetheless charged for possessing guns and ammunition," at-Trinidad said the government claimed they were planning to assassinate the prime minister and a number of other ministers. He said while it would have been an honour for them to have done that, they had not.

The Muslim went on to disclose that before he and two of his closest friends Abu 'Abdillah and Abu 'Isa – who were killed in the ISIS war, or "attained martyrdom" as at-Trinidad put it – left the country to join their ISIS colleagues in the Middle East, they killed two men whom they had been hunting. He said the killing occurred in the middle of the city in broad daylight and was caught on camera. Even though his two friends were arrested, they were eventually released and eventually left Trinidad and Tobago.

The guerrilla fighter was highly critical of Muslims remaining in Trinidad and Tobago, saying they “clearly have some weakness in their faith which they have to correct” ...at the same time, at-Trinidadidi told them they could take the “golden opportunity to do something that many of us here wish we could do right now”.

“You have the ability to terrify the disbelievers in their own homes and make their streets run with their blood. Where is your jealousy for the religion? They are bombing your brothers and sisters day and night in the land where Allah’s law is supreme. It is an obligation upon you to act and force them to think thrice before bombing the Muslims. Therefore, terrorize the disbelievers and make them feel fear everywhere, even in their own bedrooms. Due to their mere disbelief, their blood by default is lawful to spill..

“Attack the interests of the Crusader coalition near you, including their embassies, businesses, and civilians. Burn down their government institutions just as they try to bomb our buildings where Allah’s law is upheld. Follow the example of the lions in France and Belgium, the example of the blessed couple in California, and the examples of the knights in Orlando and Nice,” Crawford is far left of this merry band.
