

Walid Jumblatt Advises The Druze To Surrender To The Sunnis

Fearful and defeatist, Walid Jumblatt, the leader of the Druze (Druze) in Lebanon, counsels the Druze in Syria to give up on the Alawites and the regime that protects non-Muslim minorities, and throw in their lot with the Sunni Arabs, some of whom, as members of the Al-Nusra Front, have just massacred two dozen Druze in northwestern Syria and forcibly converted others (as has happened to non-Muslims in the Middle East over the centuries – what is happening today is just Islamic history speeded up, and there for all to see). Jumblatt has given up, and he can't say what some Druze must be thinking – there is, after all, a country next door, where 125,000 Druze live peacefully and are protected by, and in turn help protect, the government and people of Israel.