Lt. General Salah Gosh head of NISS in Bashir Regime

Lt. General Salah Abdallah Mohamed (Gosh) is Sudan's spymaster and head of the National Intelligence Security Service that controls Jihadist Rapid Support Forces/Janjaweed Militias and the Bashir regime's 'shadow army'. It is the cruel instrument of the Bashir regime ethnically cleansing the indigenous African peoples in Darfur, South Kordofan and the Blue Nile state. These forces under General Salah Gosh have attacked, detained, raped and tortured thousands of protesters throughout Sudan since the outbreak of daily rallies on December 18, 2018 seeking the ouster of the Bashir regime after 30 years of corrupt and brutal rule.
