

Woman pulled alive from River Thames ~ Police officer now dead

The eye witness was correct about seeing a body in the River Thames under Westminster Bridge. But according to Sky TV News she has just been pulled out alive. The River is cleaner than it was, but it's very cold at this time of year, and the currents are always powerful.

Also on the bridge and caught up in the attack were primary school children from a school in Brittany.

Latest, one of the police officers has died.