Leaflets with the writing “every Zionist needs to leave Britain or be slaughtered” were found spread around the streets of Hendon, a predominantly Jewish neighbourhood in north London.

The threatening message was written in Hebrew, and the leaflet also stated in English “Zionist Free Zone.” It also read “Ha, made you pick up litter you zianazi freak.”

The disturbing flyers were reported to Stand With Us UK, a British educational charity educating about Israel and countering misinformation that can lead to antisemitism.

Isaaz Zarfati, the Executive Director for the charity told GB News: "We are witnessing a troubling trend of red lines being repeatedly crossed. This is not just another wave that will pass if we remain passive."

This incident comes after the neighbourhood was also targeted in October, when antisemitic messages were left at Hendon Golf Club
